The Kacklin' Kitchen

Dear Parents,

Today your child was involved in a lesson about respect. We read the book The Kacklin' Kitchen by Julie Woik, which shows us how to successfully give and receive respect.

I encourage you to ask your child what he or she has learned from the reading of this book, and to discuss ideas that could help everyone in the family to learn about respect and its many rewards.

You may want to practice by pointing out when someone in the family or someone you know has displayed respect, either for themselves or to others. Always remember to give praise whenever it is deserved.

Thank you for helping us to help your children grow and become healthy adults with strong values and morals.

Sincerely,

This is the fourth in a series of books teaching values and morals, and building strong self-esteem in children from 0 - 10.
