

what do i do now?

Choose and circle the appropriate response for the questions below.

1. Another student tells you that you look nice today. What might you do?

Say "Thank you."      Say "No I don't."      Walk away.

2. The cafeteria monitor tells your teacher that you were very polite at lunch. Your teacher praises you for being a great example. What might you do?

Say "Whatever."      Smile and say "Wow, thanks."      Laugh.

3. The team you're on just won the big game! Everyone is cheering and congratulating each other. What might you do?

Go sit down.      Pat your team members on the back!      Cry.

4. The principal of your school picks YOU to hang up and raise the flag outside of your building to celebrate our soldiers. What might you do?

Kindly accept!      Run home.      Say "I don't want to do it."

5. You did GREAT on the difficult math test. Your teacher tells you so in front of everyone in your classroom. What might you do?

Sink down in your seat.      Throw up.      Smile and give a thumbs up!

6. Everyone but you is running in the hall. A teacher notices your conduct, and stops to say "It is wonderful to see such nice behavior." What might you do?

Make a face.      Say "I'm want to follow the rules."      Roll on the floor.

7. You're getting to be the best basketball player in the class, and the teacher praises you for your hard work. What might you do?

Ignore them.      Roll your eyes.      Excitedly ask if you can do more.

8. A classmate recognizes that you're really good at spelling, and asks you to be on their team to win the Annual Spelling Bee. What might you do?

Say "Sure!"      Say "I'm not good at spelling."      Frown and walk away.