My name is _____ . I'm a _____ . I go to school under the (A fun name) (An ocean character) ocean. My school is called _____ . One day I walked into (A fun name of underwater school) the classroom and saw Echo taking some of the school supplies. She had _____ (Supplies)
and _____ in her hands. I couldn't believe my eyes! I went over to her and said (Supplies)
(A question you might want to ask someone in this situation)

Echo looked at me and said “HUH!?” She didn't seem to understand why I was upset. I explained to her that she couldn't just _____ . I told her that she (Do what?) needed to _____ if she wanted something. I also tried to tell Echo how (What should she do?)
disappointed I was to see her taking things. I said, “I feel _____ (How it would make you feel inside) about all of this. You're not only hurting me and everyone in the school, but when you _____, you hurt yourself too. How would you feel if someone took (What Echo did) something that belonged to you?” Echo sadly looked down and realized that she had made a terrible mistake. She handed me the items and said, “I'm so _____.” Together (What do you think she said?)
we walked to the _____ office so Echo could explain what happened.
(Where did they go?)
Echo loved her school, and wanted to _____ .
(What do you think she did?)
In the end, she learned _____ .
