

NOW I Understand!

Sometimes children will lie.

Sometimes children will exaggerate or distort the truth.

Sometimes children will deny what they know...even when they know plenty!

Here's an opportunity for children to use characters and items from the book to create their OWN story about a lie or deceitful situation; helping them to better understand the concept of lying, the effects it can have on those involved, and the consequences that may result.

