

“You’ll find,” Lilly whispered, “if you look really close, Our values and morals are what matters the most.”

mor • al (môr' əl, mor' -), adj. 1. exhibiting goodness or correctness in character and behavior. 2. pertaining to the standard what is right or good. - n. 3. the lesson principle taught by a fable.

more (mōr, môr), adj. 1. a greater degree, amount, or measure. 2. further in addition to. 3. something of greater importance.

morning (môr' ning), n. 1. the day; the dawn. 2. the first part of the day.

morning (mō' shən), n. 1. the process of moving or coming into position. 2. power of