

She often would say to me, "Open your eyes!

If you're not really looking, you'll miss the surprise.

There's more to that flower than just being red...

