~~Essay~~ I mean...I SAY!

- If you were going to describe The Toy Store to someone, what would you exactly tell them?
- What parts of the story stuck out in your mind?
- What do you think Lilly the Lash could see in Tommy that he couldn't see in himself?
- Do you think it's hard for people to see their own faults? Why?
- Do you think it was hard for Aaron to reach out and take a chance on becoming Tommy's friend? What character traits does Aaron possess that made him feel like he wanted to do this?
- Have you ever "reached out" to someone who needed a friend or feel you've changed someone's life by showing an act of kindness...such as sharing? Tell me about it.
- In each of the Lilly the Lash episodes, someone is destined to learn an important lesson. After the lesson is learned, Lilly sprinkles that character with the magic to receive their own eyelash fairy to guide them through their life. Do you think an eyelash is a practical fictional mentor? Why do you think consumers like this eyelash concept so much?
- Do you think it's important for everyone in the world to learn to share, be respectful, responsible, honest, kind, and so forth? Why? Really, tell me why this matters!
- If there was one thing you could say Lilly the Lash has helped you to realize, what would it be?
