

"I'm sure what you say you believe to be true.
But you're missing the point, that they've COUNTED on you!
An example," professed Wilma, while clearing her throat,
"Is the unpredictability you display with your boat."

