

Stop and Think

Life is full of choices. Sometimes we have to make decisions that aren't easy.
Here are some questions that will make you think.

Circle what you would do and then explain why? Discuss with the class.

1. You have a chance to go with a friend and his family to New York City for the first time, but your family is having a big party for your Mother's birthday. What would you do?
 - a. Stay at home to celebrate your Mother's birthday.
 - b. Go with your friend and hope your Mother has a fun time.

Why? _____

2. You're on the playground having the time of your life. You spot a new student leaning on a nearby tree, watching the fun. Only a certain number of children can play this particular game. What do you do?
 - a. Smile at the student but just keep playing the game.
 - b. Approach the student and offer to take turns switching places. But remember, you'd be watching part of the time instead of playing.

Why? _____

3. While in The Toy Store, Tommy approaches you and tells you to put the toy you have in your hands down. You do so, but then are left to decide how to react. What do you do?
 - a. Put the toy down and just walk away quietly.
 - b. Put the toy down, but then calmly question his comment.

Why? _____
