

10/9/09

Dear Ms. Julie Wolk,

I really loved the presentation you gave us. I love to write, so it was very intriguing to learn how the self-publishing process went. I found you entertaining and warm, perfect for the creator of Lilly the Lash®. The verses for both of your books are beautifully written; the illustrations are captivating and eye-catching to all passerby. Your goal with Lilly the Lash® is noble and noteworthy: helping children learn life lessons so the world can be a much kinder, more loving place to live in. It is nice to know that just about anyone can make a difference in the writing world, even someone from a small town like Mayville.

You inspire me even more to write and get better, even though it may all be for fun.

Sincerely yours,

Talyn McFarlane