

Julie Woik,

Thank you so much for coming to our school and showing us your book. I think it's very inspiring that you could take the simplest thing, an eyelash, and make it magnificent! You are creating an amazing line of books for young children. I also thought it was very cool how you explained how to become a writer and what you went through. To us kids, it seems like great writers are just automatically famous and by you coming here it really showed us that you, and all famous authors, had to work for what you wanted, but it also showed us that if we really wanted to, we could become writers too. Your work is very inspiring and teaches good morals to youngsters! Thank you so much for coming to MMS!

-Lera Kovacevich